

Vince Chong (Air Force)

Vince Chong is an aviation software/electronics engineer and has served in the Air Force for 15 years.

He has held a variety of postings including Engineering Officer at No. 37 Squadron (C-130J Hercules), Aviation/Software Design Engineer at the Air Lift Systems Program Office, Aide-de-Camp to Air Commander Australia, Integrated Electronics and Electronic Warfare Project Manager for the Australian Super Hornet Project, and USA-based Resident Project Officer for the Australian Super Hornet.

He deployed to the Middle East with the AP3-C Orion aircraft as the communications officer in 2003.

He worked as the DEFGLIS Media Liaison/Communications Officer from 2007 to 2009, and worked with Fairness and Resolution branch to organize the first LGBTI diversity seminar to look at ways that Defence could improve support for LGBTI personnel.

Vince is currently the Officer-in-Charge of Systems Certification and Integrity 1 (aviation software) at the Directorate General of Technical Airworthiness and lives with his partner Harley in Melbourne.