2021 Celebration.

We've had to put our preparations on hold until 1 July 2019 – see the latest update HERE.

The Sunday Concert event will be open to all in Melbourne and could look like this below, you'll definitely want a reserved seat.

Remember, the “other day” Celebration events are open to anyone and everyone who has spent time at Ballarat, Laverton, Point Cook, St Kilda or Frognall, it's open to clerks, cooks, framies, pilots, instructor, even radtechs, it's irrespective of mustering. The individual cost to everyone will be minimal as we're down the road away with sponsors and it's looking good.

Early in 2020 we'll need you to commit and fill in another form with all names, shirt sizes etc and soon after that you'll need to make a payment – but more on that later too.

We'll be asking for volunteers later, people to help with set up, team leaders, crowd management, waiters etc, more on that later too.

Click HERE to let us know you'd like to come.

Buying a new car?

If you're contemplating buying a new car, we could save you thousands. The Radschool Association has done a deal with Australia's biggest car brokers whereby you can purchase a car (your choice of make, colour, specs etc) at fleet discount prices.

To see further details, go to the Radschool Assoc home page (HERE) then click on "New Car Purchase".

Discounts.

We're working on obtaining discounts for financial members of the Radschool Association. If you'd like to benefit from these discounts, and you're not a member, scroll down to the Membership section below, fill in the relevant form and we'll send you the info.

Current financial members will receive an email from us soon with info on how to obtain a 12% discount on the base rate of the day when hiring a car from Thrifty. With the holiday season upon us, if you're thinking of hiring a car or an SUV or a people mover, this could save you heaps.

Veterans Card.

Back in June 2018 we wrote to the Minister for Veterans Affairs/Defence Personnel, Hon Darren Chester MP, suggesting the Government should introduce a "Proof of Service" card (see HERE). This was followed up with several bits of correspondence and eventually we were offered a meeting with the Minister's advisers in Canberra. On the 21st September, we met in Canberra with David Roberts and the delightful Louise Hooper (right), both advisers to the Minister who gave us about an hour of their valuable time and where we discussed the proposal.

Shortly after, we received THIS from the Minister. Good News!

As most know, TPI/EDA Vets have access to free Government transport within the state in which they live. State Governments issue a Veterans Travel Card however, the holder of the card is entitled to free transport only with that state. We asked Louise Hooper if there were any plans to make the card a national benefit. She replied: "I understand that harmonisation of state benefits was discussed at the Veteran Ministers Roundtable that was held on 27 October"

We think it is still being discussed – but fingers crossed!

While in Canberra, we also met with the Sarah Huy from the office of Amanda Rishworth (right), the Labor Shadow Minister for Veterans' Affairs. We didn't get a personal response, but we did get this Media Release.

Savings for veterans

Once the Proof of Service Card – or Veterans' Card as it will be called, is implemented, major corporations will be encouraged to offer special services and/or discounts to holders. Businesses will be encouraged to offer discounts on everything from groceries to power bills.

The details of the card will be worked through with state and territory governments and businesses. It will be separate to the Department of Veterans' Affairs health cards but will be similar to the approach adopted by Canada and the US. Already Woolworths, Coles, Kmart, Bunnings, Target, NRMA and Clubs Australia have signed up, while Westpac has expressed support for the idea. The reported percentages were between 5 and 10 per cent.

At present, many businesses and services find it hard to identify who is a veteran, with the problem most acute in states such as NSW and Queensland, each of which are home to more than 80,000 veterans.

Virgin

Back in November, Virgin Australia announced plans to allow priority boarding for members and ex-members of the Australian Defence Force. They offered military veterans the chance to board first and acknowledge their service during in-flight announcements.

We thought it was a wonderful initiative – but for some inexplicable reason, some didn't.

The Australia Defence Association (ADA) said the offer was lacking in common sense. Neil James, the executive director of the ADA said “Virgin Australia’s move to offer veterans priority boarding and a public thank-you on flights drew a ‘reasonably critical’ response from his members. I think most people would like some practical help rather than what’s likely to become a tokenistic gesture”. He said “the US-style of publicly thanking veterans for their service would not necessarily translate well to Australia. There’s a fine line between embarrassing them and thanking them and, in some cases, where they’re suffering a psychological illness, effusively thanking them in public might not necessarily help them.”

Well, let me tell you something Mr James, you don’t speak for me, I’ll be forever grateful to Virgin for offering that benefit – to be able to board early ahead of the rush, I think is fabulous and I’ll accept it with both hands. Anyone, who for whatever reason doesn’t want to accept it, can just sit tight and board with the masses. If you don’t want it, don’t put your hand up – and don’t try and stop others who do want it.

My old nan used to say, “give them an inch and they’ll want a mile!”. This seems to be the ADA’s doctrine, instead of saying thank you to Virgin, they want to big-note themselves and want more.

Good for you Virgin. For me it’s a reason to fly with them.

Membership.

We’ve decided to go with the following membership.
